

Lab 5: Quick Sort

Implement the randomized quick sort algorithm described in section 2.4 in the book. Generate an array of $n > 100$ random integers in the range $[0, n-1]$. You should generate these n integers independently so that you can have duplicate values in the array.

Your code should return the sorted array
